As the old adage goes,
"April showers bring May flowers!"

Just like flowers need nourishment and sunshine to grow, so do we need nourishment for our mind, body and soul. Better weather and sunshine is on its way and I hope that you will take time to stop by the R.W.B. Community Center and check out our wide variety of programs - music, dance, art, cooking, exercise, lunch and education! There is something for everyone!

Please take time to register today either online or by calling 643-5315!

JUNE 7: Eat to Defeat Parkinson’s
Cook to Defeat Disease™ Nutrition Education series was created by Dr. Laleh Talebian, Ph.D. a research scientist, with a strong background in cancer biology, human genetics and immunology, and a certified health and wellness coach.

Dr. Laleh’s approach is simple: Eat like Mother Nature intended. She teaches about making healthy choices, caring for oneself by preparing healthy foods, developing a healthy relationship with food. With her background in cancer biology/immunology, she has created a long list of disease fighting foods as well as foods that should be avoided for prevention and control of chronic disease. Participants receive supporting literature, information about good food sources, shopping lists and recipes created by Dr. Laleh, while preparing healthy food.

RUNNING MECHANICS WORKSHOP
Wednesday, MAY 22
6:00 - 8:00 pm
Room 212
$30.00 per person
Instructor: Lisa Blackburn

Lisa Blackburn, owner and solo practitioner at Blackburn Physical Therapy in Hanover, is a seasoned PT who specializes in manual therapy. Her 20+ years of training in manual therapy techniques through Michigan State University School of Osteopathy Continuing Education Program differentiates her skill set and approach from other practitioners. She also has extensive continuing education in foot biomechanics, gait and running analysis. Lisa enjoys keeping people healthy and moving in order to fully maximize success in their chosen activity.

This two hour workshop is designed to smooth the transition into running. The goal of the class is to understand proper running mechanics in order to maximize the efficiency of your gait, improve performance and minimize injury. Learn the proper exercises for warming up as well as those that will improve your running gait and understand how to adjust your running schedule during running re-entry to avoid injury.
